About Us

A pleasing aroma promotes psychological and physical well-being. It would not be wrong to say that not all aromatic products are soul-soothing but the ones which truly are, and also have anti-inflammatory, antimicrobial, astringent and antiseptic properties, are served by Anjum Aromatics. Our company serves the best collection of Sandalwood Products including Sandalwood Chips, Sandalwood Powder, Sandalwood Oil, etc. We are also loved for a variety of Essential Oils that are first grade in quality and powerful in rendering effective results. Herbs, woods, flowers and other essential products are used for producing essential oils of great value. From invoking a sense of relief to suppression of anxiety, our essential oils range offer myriads of benefits. For producing aforesaid oils, we apply cold steam and distillation process and also run a quality affirming test to ensure our aromatic offerings stand out from the rest. As a manufacturer and exporter, quality is something that we give most attention to delight our customers.

Our Infrastructure

Processing Sandalwood Products and Essential Oils in a manner that only quality reaches to customers is our forte for which we have invested in developing a large, hi-tech and advanced production unit in Indore, Madhya Pradesh (India). Our unit has production, quality testing, packaging and numerous other departments for safe and smooth business proceedings. All the proceedings take place in a systematic manner at our company, which is the reason of our timely project completion.
